

Three Aboard Escape Injury

Plane Crashes At Whiteman

A civilian plane carrying military supplies crashed and burned today during a landing at Whiteman Air Force Base while a thunderstorm was in progress.

The three crew members escaped injury. The base information office said the DC-6 was operated for Aaxico Air Lines of Sacramento, Calif., under contract to the Air Force.

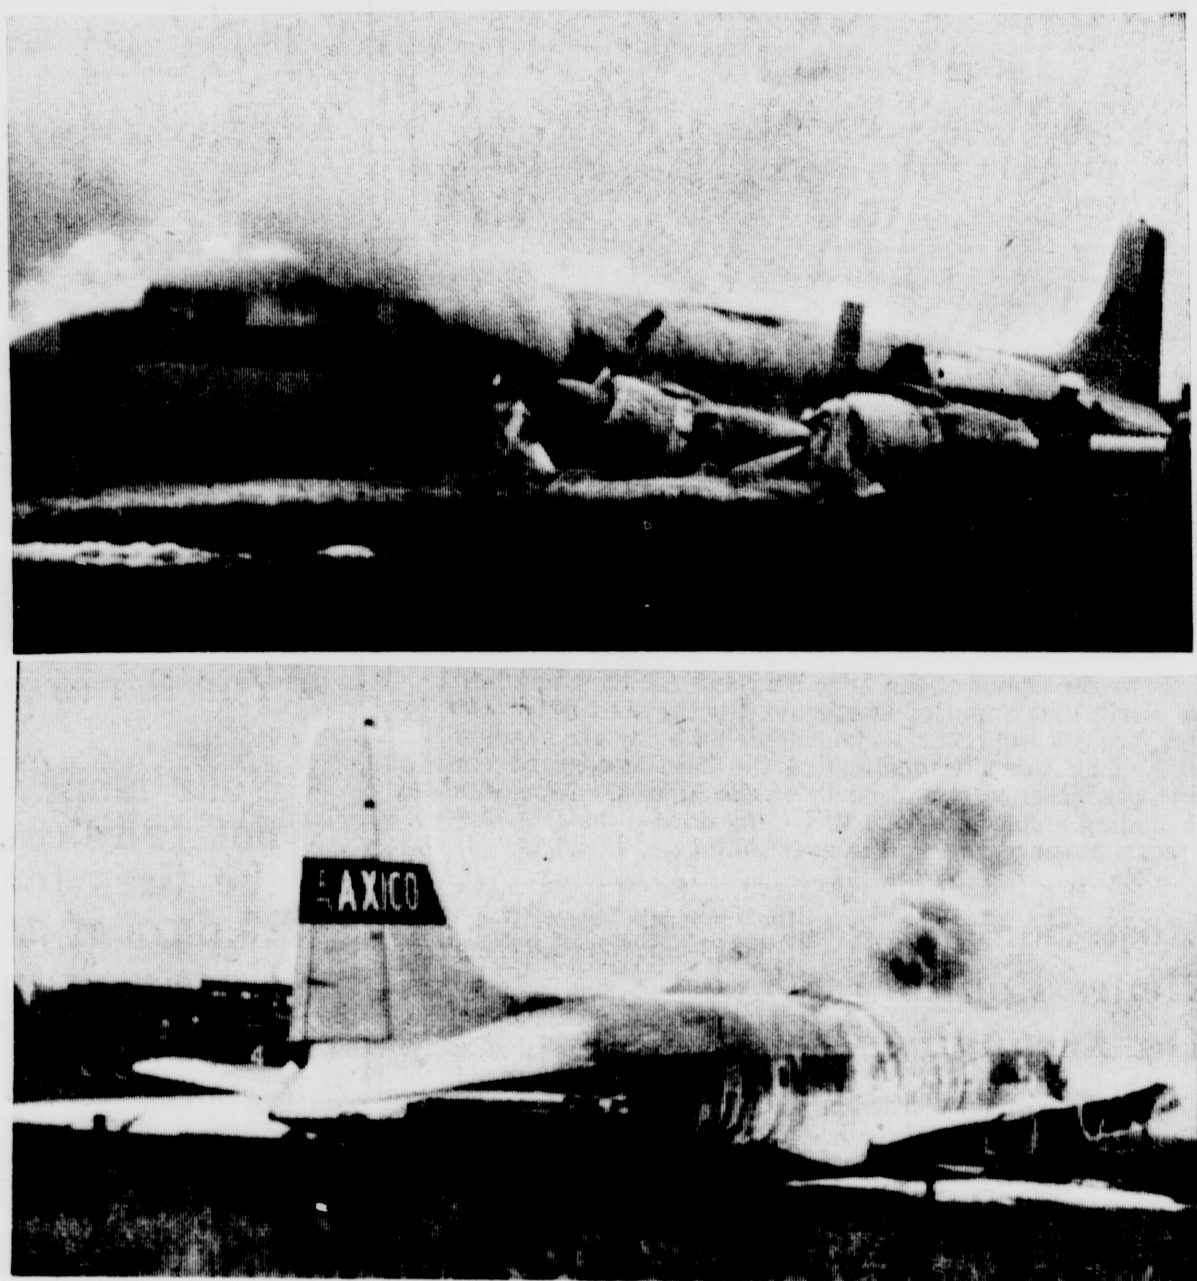

The crew members were R. Tipp, captain; G. Weitbrecht, first officer, and R. Hahn, engineer. Their hometowns were not known at the base. They had flown from Tinker Air Force Base at Oklahoma City.

The Federal Aviation Agency will investigate to determine the cause of the crash. The plane hit just southeast of the base runway.

Base officials declined comment on what may have caused the crash pending the FAA investigation. Major George Baxter, staff information officer, said the plane failed to reach the end of the runway as it made its landing approach.

In Washington, the Civil Aeronautics Board sent a team of investigators to Whiteman to check the circumstances of the crash.

The CAB sent Supervisory Air Safety Investigator George R. Baker and specialists in operations, air traffic control, weather and aircraft structure to the scene.

CRASH SCENES—Fire broke out during the crash of this DC-6 along the southeast border of Whiteman AFB at 6:10 a.m. Tuesday. The plane, owned and flown by AAXICO on contract for the U.S. Air Force, apparently attempted to land during a thunderstorm, hit some trees just west of Johnson County Highway D, breaking a communication line along the highway, then what appeared to be the propellers on the engines on the right wing dug into the highway. Parts of the right wing and the engines were strewn over the next 3,000 yards to where the plane came to rest in a field just outside of the base border. The fire broke out just back of the cockpit area,

Sewer Plant Work Seen This Summer

A start on improvements included in the sewer bond issue passed in November, 1963, is seen by the last of this summer, members of the steering committee which guided the issue to passage said today.

The committee reported it has been receiving engineering status reports from Burns & McDonnell consulting engineers every 30 days.

City Council opens bids next Monday, May 24, for work on the north treatment plant and the committee noted that approval of contract documents for this plant were granted by the Missouri Water Pollution Board on April 22 and by the U. S. Public Health Service on April 26.

"Sedilians who have been long waiting visible results of the sewer bond program will soon see a start after contract letting, and the prescribed waiting period, probably by the last of the summer," the panel said in a statement.

Burns & McDonnell's report advises they estimate completion date for review of contract documents on the west treatment plant by the Public Health Service and the Water Pollution Board to be around July 1. Release of contract documents on the south plant is not anticipated prior to fiscal year 1967.

All survey work has been completed for the sanitary sewer system improvements, the committee said. Topography has been obtained for the proposed lagoon site for Sewer District No. 147, which includes the Thompson Hills Shopping Center on West Highway 50 and adjacent areas.

This lagoon is to serve the area under development until permanent sewer system is constructed under the bond program. The lagoon and temporary system is being developed at the landowner's expense, the committee pointed out.

The Rev. Walter P. Arnold is committee chairman and members are Julian Bagby, Abe Silverman, William Schien, Mrs. Rose Ann Johns and Maurice Hogan.

Would Rather Starve

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The president of an Alabama Pensions and Senior Citizens League chapter says, "We'd rather starve" than submit to federal nondiscrimination requirements.

Rubin Hanan, head of the league's north-central chapter, said Monday that enforcement of the compliance certificate "would force virtual starvation upon thousands of needy, poor and sick people of both races in Alabama."

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has warned state welfare agencies that they face loss of federal funds if they persist in discriminating against Negroes after July 1.

Junta Poised For Big Push On Rebels

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican junta today poised the threat of an all-out drive against the rebels after rejecting a new peace plan offered by Washington.

As the junta sent tanks and fresh troops with mortars and artillery against rebel holdouts in northern Santo Domingo, Foreign Minister Horacio Vicioso warned that all resistance would be crushed unless the insurgents drop their "absurd and unacceptable pretensions."

The junta president, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, rejected a U.S. proposal reportedly calling for a coalition, saying it would open the way to a Communist takeover.

The plan offered by presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy and three other officials from Washington reportedly called for a government headed by Antonio Guzman, agriculture minister under exiled President Juan Bosch.

Guzman was known to be acceptable to the rebel regime headed by Col. Francisco Caamano Dene. The rebels originally sought the return of Bosch and of the constitution which was junked when the military overthrew him.

Poverty Looks Good To This Mountaineer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government is trying to collect $1,717.52 from a Tennessee mountaineer who says he is so hard up that poverty looks good to him.

The money represents timber that the hill man cut — on his own farm, he says. The government claims it was on national forest land.

Rep. James H. Quillen, R-Tenn., has taken up the case with the Department of Agriculture, which runs the Forest Service.

Quillen wrote Secretary Orville L. Freeman: "If we cannot solve this small problem of $1,717.52, then we had better forget about winning any war against poverty."

Quillen got the poverty angle from a letter, laboriously handwritten but forceful, that the mountaineer, Wilford Metcalf of Del Rio, Cocke County, Tenn., wrote him.

Program to Start Soon

Local Poverty Funds Approved

"Head start projects to give eight weeks of pre-school training this summer for 90 children of the poor will be made possible at Sedalia by a federal contribution of $18,331 from the office of economic opportunity," according to a telegram received from William J. Randall, member of Congress to the Sedalia Democrat Capital.

This, Congressman Randall stated in his message, will provide employment for nine adults and 13 volunteers and is sponsored by Sedalia School District No. 200.

The project, "Head Start," is part of the nation's war on poverty and Dr. T. J. Norris, superintendent of public schools in Sedalia, states that this is the amount of money he applied for after making a survey of all the schools in Pettis County including parochial schools.

This project, Dr. Norris explained, is an attempt to give the boys and girls cultural enrichment and some of the experiences they have not had so they will not be at a disadvantage when they enter school. It is for the children of the economically depressed of an age to enter school next September from anywhere in Pettis County if they are eligible.

The kindergarten and cultural enrichment programs will be held at Mark Twain School where there will be three classes, Whittier School, one class and the Children's Therapy Center, one class.

These children, Norris pointed out, haven't been read to, listened to, and as a result, when they enter school they feel inferior to the middle class and above children who have had books, magazines and other things in their homes, have been to the Lake of the Ozarks, to Kansas City to the zoo to St. Louis to the ballgames and have done many things these less fortunate children have never had an opportunity to do, and thus are unable to compete. This gives a bad psychological effect and it is felt that the summer program will give them an equal chance when they start to school.

Dr. Norris hopes to start the classes June 14. This will depend on the special training the teachers, who have not yet been selected — awaiting word from the federal government on the allotment—to be received at the workshop at Columbia. The classes will be held all day long.

The children, Dr. Norris said, will receive physical and dental examinations and speech therapy if they need it. There will also be a school nurse to teach

Industrial Department Ordinances Are Passed

City Council, Monday night, gave final passage to two ordinances creating a new Department for the City and a Committee to Administer the Department. One ordinance created a Department of Industrial Development and the second ordinance created an Industrial Development Committee of the Council to Administer the Department.

As soon as both ordinances were passed, Mayor L. L. Studer, announced, "It is up to the Mayor to name the members of the Committee composed of three councilmen. I am naming Councilman James Askren as chairman with Councilmen Ralph Walker and James Schumaker as members."

An ordinance was passed ordering removal of parking meters on the west side of Massachusetts from Third to Fourth streets.

A report was read from the Citizens Traffic Advisory Committee, in which it recommends the re-establishment of two-way traffic on Massachusetts from Broadway to Tenth street as soon as school is out at Smith-Cotton high school. The report also carried several subjects which the Committee is investigating before making any recommendations.

Library Bill To Governor For Signature

Library Bill 120 which was sponsored by Representatives of Jackson County which gives annexed areas to the cities for taxation purposes on County and City library taxes, has received final passage in the House of Representatives and now goes to Governor Warren E. Hearnes for his signature. The Bill becomes law as of Oct. 13, according to Pettis County Representative Joe F. Rains.

Rains in telling of the passage said amendments which were also accepted will affect Sedalia on its problem of double taxation of recently acquired areas. The City of Sedalia will receive its library tax from those areas and those which went to Boonslick will not now have to be paid.

He explained the new law sets the boundaries of the taxing property at the present City Limits. Under the law any annexation done after Oct. 13, 1965, will not be taxable by the library of the city but goes to the county.

Asks End To Latin Fighting

Personal Appeal From U Thant To Warring Factions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant made a personal appeal today to the warring factions in the Dominican Republic for an immediate halt in hostilities.

In a statement released at U.N. headquarters Thant said: "Peaceful means are the only ones which can bring about a lasting settlement of the conflict now besetting the Dominican Republic, and no effort should be spared by those concerned, to put an end to the fighting which has caused already so much bloodshed and destruction."

Thant added that he wanted to convey to all those involved in the Dominican Republic "my most pressing and earnest appeal to heed the call of the Security Council for an immediate cessation of hostilities as an essential step in bringing about a propitious atmosphere in which a solution may be found to the grave difficulties facing the Dominican Republic."

The representative, Jose Antonio Mayobre of Venezuela, is on the scene.

Concert Is Tonight

The annual spring concert of Sedalia's Men's Choral Club will be presented at 8:15 tonight at Smith-Cotton High School auditorium. Abe Rosenthal is director; Mrs. Lillian Maynard, accompanist.

Kansas Firm License Nod

Arguments over Sedalia Community Antenna Television were settled Monday night, at least for a time, with the awarding of a license to the Sedalia Cable TV, Inc., Iola, Kan.

The license is subject to specifications to be drafted by City Council, and the outcome of an investigation of the financial status of the company.

Voting to award a license was five to three, and came after more than an hour and forty minutes of discussion.

A ruling on an election requested in petitions signed by approximately 2,200 persons was given by City Counselor Earl Crawford who said the results of such an election would not be binding on the City Council either way the election went, for or against. This ruling came after Attorney Fred F. Wesner asked the counselor for his opinion.

Mayor L. L. Studer, after reports of special committees, called attention to the CATV proposals stating, "We now come to something that most of the audience is interested in, CATV. Mr. Claude Knight in a letter requesting a meeting with the Council is here and I want to give him an opportunity to talk without interruption. Will those representing the CATV firms please not interrupt until he is ready for questions?"

Knight then read a letter to the City Council as follows:

Mayor and City Council
City of Sedalia
Sedalia, Missouri
Gentlemen:

"Without benefit of an organized door to door drive, a handful of citizens circulated petitions for voluntary signatures on petitions submitted herewith, re-

Convicted Robbers Escape from Moberly

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—Two convicted robbers escaped from the Moberly Medium Security Prison late Monday night.

They were identified as Richard Lee Turner, 24, and Gerald Monroe Arras, 24, both sentenced April 23, 1964 in Jackson County circuit court for first degree robbery.

Turner was sentenced to 10 years in prison, Arras to six years.

Labor Act Repeal Bid By LBJ

Right-to-Work Section Target; Overtime Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson urged Congress today to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act and thus wipe out right-to-work laws in 19 states.

Johnson also asked Congress to extend minimum wage coverage to an additional 4.5 million workers. He did not recommend an increase in the present federal minimum of $1.25 an hour, a major goal of labor leaders.

"The question is not whether the minimum wage should be increased but when and by how much," Johnson said in his labor message to Congress.

"The Congress should consider carefully the effects of higher minimum wage rates on the incomes of those employed, and also on costs and prices, and on job opportunities — particularly for the flood of teen-agers now entering our labor force."

Johnson also recommended legislation to discourage overtime work in order to spread employment by boosting the overtime pay requirements from time and one-half to double time.

While Johnson's message did not spell out the details, accompanying legislation would require double time pay only after 48 hours of work in a given week. This would drop one hour a week over a three-year period to 45 hours a week for workers now covered by the law.

The double time provision apparently would not apply to the 4.5 million additional workers which the legislation seeks to bring under provisions of present law.

The additional workers to be covered by the $1.25 minimum wage and the present time and one-half for overtime past 40 hours a week would be largely in retail trade, laundries and dry cleaning establishments, hotels and motels, restaurants, hospitals and some other industries.

In another recommendation, Johnson asked Congress to overhaul the federal-state unemployment insurance system and its present patchwork of varying jobless benefits.

"No major improvements have been made since its original enactment 30 years ago," Johnson said of the jobless aid program.

Johnson discouraged labor's drive to cut the present federal standard work week of 40 hours.

"I do not think the time for change in the law has come," Johnson said.

But he left the door open for later action on both higher minimum wages and a reduced work week.

"As average wages rise, the minimum wage level should be increased periodically," Johnson said in suggesting that Congress review the matter.

Suspend Licenses

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The state liquor control supervisor, Gelson T. Moran, suspended five licenses Monday for violations of liquor laws.

Included were: The package license of Cut Rate Liquors near Knob Noster, 15 days beginning May 14, for sale to minor.

First Air Raids In Six Days

Resume North Viet Strikes

Viet Forces Kill 128 Reds In 3 Days

SAIGON (AP)—The United States resumed air strikes against North Viet Nam today, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The spokesman said 30 U.S. Navy war planes from the 7th Fleet carrier Coral Sea attacked a petroleum storage area at Phu Qui, 125 miles south of Hanoi. Initial pilot reports said severe damage was inflicted on the target, which was reported burning.

All planes returned safely, a spokesman said. The strikes were the first against the Communist North in six days. There was no explanation here for their resumption.

The break in the day-by-day bombing, never officially explained, was widely regarded as a potential opening for a Communist bid for negotiations. No such development was apparent.

The full began shortly before Secretary of State Dean Rusk went to Vienna for a meeting last Friday with his British and French counterparts and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at which it was thought Viet Nam might be discussed.

Gromyko politely declined to be drawn into such a discussion with Rusk at the gathering, held in connection with celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Austrian independence treaty. Meantime, the ground war picked up.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese ground forces and U.S. helicopters killed 128 Viet Cong fighters and captured 31 in three operations today and Monday. But 11 government troops were killed and 58 were missing in a Viet Cong attack on a hamlet 100 miles east of Saigon.

More than a battalion of South Vietnamese troops hit a Viet Cong training camp 30 miles south of the Da Nang Air Base early today. During seven hours of fighting they killed at least 40 guerrillas and captured six, U.S. officials reported after a body count of the dead.

There was no immediate report of government casualties in this operation.

In Binh Tuy Province, two companies of Viet Cong attacked a village 65 miles east of Saigon Monday. Four U.S. helicopters battered the Communists while ground troops reinforced a regional-forces company defending the village.

A U.S. spokesman said 50 Viet Cong were killed—30 of them by fire from the helicopters—while five of the defenders were killed and four were wounded.

Vietnamese marines made a series of sweep operations Monday in Kon Tum Province, 60 miles north of Saigon, and killed 38 Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman said.

The Weather

Turning cooler tonight, lows from low 50s to low 60s. Wednesday partly cloudy and mild, highs in the 70s.

The temperature Tuesday was 64 at 7 a.m., and 76 at noon. Low Monday night was 64, with 12 inches of rainfall.

The temperature one year ago today was high 89; low 64; two years ago, high 76; low 54; three years ago, high 90; low 65.

Harry Garrison, Regents Board Chief Is Dead

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP)—Harry R. Garrison, 78, president of the Warrensburg State College board of regents, died Monday night in Johnson County Memorial Hospital following an illness of several months.

Garrison, a vice president of the Peoples State Bank of Warrensburg, had served two terms as mayor here. He was a charter member of the Rotary and the Elks—serving one term as state president of the Elks in 1927.

He was born in Shell City, Mo. but except for a six-year period in which he lived in Garvin, Okla., and worked in the bank there, he had been a lifelong resident of Warrensburg.

Disappointed In Lack Of Red Reaction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman said today the United States was "disappointed" at the failure of North Viet Nam to respond in any way to the suspension of air strikes against North Vietnamese targets.

LONDON (AP)—Senior Western officials reported that the United States, through a third country, made an official approach to Communist North Viet Nam during a six-day lull in bombing raids. The effort apparently was fruitless, the informants indicated.

pension of air strikes against North Vietnamese targets.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference under questioning: "We must assume that the other side was aware that the strikes had not been carried out for a number of days, and we have seen no reaction to that fact."

"If the other side saw anything in it, we've had no evidence of it."

McCloskey's comments underscored the resumption of bombings of North Vietnamese targets today. The resumption indicated a failure in the latest attempt by the Johnson administration to get North Viet Nam to negotiate on a peace settlement.

Unforeseen Revenue

$1.5 Billion Windfall From Record Profits And Income

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing like a 51-month stretch of prosperity to gladden the heart of a federal tax collector.

Record corporate profits and record personal incomes are bringing the U.S. Treasury a windfall of $1.5 billion this fiscal year. It anticipates a like amount in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The $3 billion is revenue that the Treasury hadn't foreseen when it drew up its budget last January. Cuts in federal income tax rates both for individual incomes and corporate earnings are now being offset in sizable amounts by the increased totals on which to levy the new, if lower, rates.

And the windfall has led the Treasury to agree to share some of its good fortune with the individual and corporate taxpayers. The share will be in the form of a greater than previously planned cut in excise taxes, paid at retail by customers, or levied at manufacturers' level of some items.

The 51-month business expansion, which this month is setting a peacetime record of its own, has flowered this year in higher than expected profits and incomes.

Right now, for instance, the Commerce Department figures that corporate gross profits are running at a record annual rate of $62.6 billion. The increase of $5.6 billion in these pretax earnings from the annual rate of $57 billion in the final three months of 1964 is pure gravy for the Treasury.

Even with corporate income tax rates dropped this year from 50 per cent to 48 per cent, the Treasury will take in a sizable hunk of money, close to $31 billion.

The corporations aren't complaining because they're glad both for the lower rate and for the record profits. Part of what's left after taxes will be handed out in dividends to stockholders — increasing personal incomes — and part will be used to finance new plants and equipment.

Confidently, the Treasury expects that this business spending, along with increased outlays by individuals with larger incomes, will keep the business expansion going far past this 51st month.

And with the expansion should come still higher corporate profits and larger totals of personal income. The lower tax rates will be applied to that still expanding volume of taxable profits and income.

Things could go wrong with all these fine hopes. The expansion rate probably will slow during the traditional summer lull. Overconfidence could lead both individuals and corporate executives into excesses that could undermine the so far sober and steady growth.

But right now the news is all reassuring: records falling month by month, the chance that this summer's slowdown will be less marked than average, the probability that the momentum of the long expansion will keep things going for some time.

And then there are the new stimulants now taking form: the cut in excise taxes that could spur private and corporate spending, the increased government outlays that projects of the "Great Society" imply.

Family Dinner Held At W. K. Smiths

A family dinner was held on Mother's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Smith, of Runceton. Guests were their children and families.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner Smith, Waynesville; Mr. and Mrs. Billy K. Smith and family, Miami; Mrs. Edith Strieght, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Serguine and children, also of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Kahle and Cheryl, rural Buncheon; Mrs. Maurice Hurt, Dobbie and Muri Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frieling and Brenda of Buncheon, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Shumate and Kevin, Kansas City.

"Later I wrote him a letter thanking him for what he did. He made me so mad that I was more than ever determined not to quit."

I asked him what he did during the dry period. He became an expert furniture maker. He grew well acquainted with his family, which grew to a brood of four daughters — plus two by his first marriage. He wrote songs. But mostly he waited.

Finally in 1953, his luck changed. The first break came when he was cast in some Rex Allen Westerns at Republic. More films followed, then a big blast as Davy Crockett's sidekick, a role in the "Northwest Passage" series, etc. All this led up to his starring in the immensely popular — except with the critics — "Beverly Hillsbillies."

DA NANG, VIET NAM BASTION—News-Graphic above shows the layout of the huge Da Nang Air Base in South Viet Nam, 380 miles north of Saigon. Near the border of North Viet Nam (see inset map) it is the most important center for air strikes against Red strongholds, staging areas, bridges and roads. Some 650 planes a day are handled on its 150-foot wide, 10,000-foot-long runway. U.S. Marines hold the hills dominating the base and guard the coastal plain. South Vietnamese Rangers patrol a 12-mile perimeter west and north of the hills. Da Nang Air Base is considered a prime target for a massive attack, including artillery, by the Viet Cong during the soon-due rainy season when weather will hamper defensive aerial reconnaissance and strikes against the Red invaders.

Hunter-Simmons Vows Said April 30

Miss Alice Juanita Hunter, Green Ridge, was united in marriage to Mr. David G. Simmons, at seven o'clock in the evening, April 30 at Calvary Baptist Church. The Rev. Charles Hendrickson read the double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Hunter, Green Ridge. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. George Le-Begue, 201 East 26th.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a suit made of white brocade satin. The jacket was styled with a high neckline and medium length sleeves and was worn with a fitted skirt. Her corsage was of mint green fringed carnations.

Mrs. Donald R. Simmons, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a lime green crepe sheath. She wore a corsage of mint green fringed carnations.

Best man was Mr. Donald R. Simmons, brother of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a blue print jersey dress with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a pink polished cotton print dress with accessories of black.

A reception attended by approximately 25 persons was held following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Simmons. The bridal table was covered with white linen. A three tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink sweetheart roses, was highlighted with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Lighted tapers encircled with flowers at the holder bases, completed table arrangements.

The home was decorated in a color scheme of pink and white. Guests were served by Mrs. William Randall, sister of the bride, and Mrs. George Lutgen.

The couple is at home at 1105½ East Sixth.

Lays Claim On Fountain Of Youth

CANNES, France (AP) — Some 26 years after she played the memorable role of Melanie in the film classic "Gone With the Wind," Olivia de Havilland seems to have a personal claim on the fountain of youth and charm.

Now 48 — but looking 20 years younger — the brown-eyed actress is serving as president of the 10-member jury that will choose the best film shown at this year's Cannes International Film Festival. Miss De Havilland also is the official U.S. representative on the jury, which includes Britain's Rex Harrison.

"It's difficult for a performer to formally judge the presentation of other performers," the actress said. "But I think any artist has to be critical. I am thinking here only of the festival and the works we are seeing. I am blotting out any notions I may have as a performer."

As a performer, she is one of the few actresses with two Hollywood Oscars — in 1946 and 1949.

Miss De Havilland is completely fluent in French. She lives in Paris with her husband, a magazine executive, and her teen-age son.

Reviewing her screen career, Miss De Havilland says her favorite costar was Henry Fonda. "He appeared to be the most remarkable to me, not in a film, but in the Broadway production of 'A Gift of Time', in which we played opposite each other."

With her partners on the jury, Miss De Havilland will judge 32 feature length films and short subjects before the Cannes festival ends May 28.

Rose Society Hears Pointers On Arranging

Mrs. Lewis Smith, assisted by Mr. Smith, talked on flower arrangements at the May 6 meeting of Sedalia Rose Society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Brummet, 1401 East 14th. Mrs. F. W. Koenig was assisting hostess at the dessert luncheon, served to 34 members. President M. L. Edwards presided.

Mrs. Smith stressed line material for arrangements. She displayed several arrangements and told how to build each one. Her advice was to plan an arrangement first, then look for material. Other pointers were—"build a pattern, which is the structural foundation; work out a design and use imagination, for an arrangement reflects the arranger." Mrs. Smith also suggested analyzing an arrangement after it is made.

Leroy Hodges, chairman of the memorial committee, reported that roses had been planted April 6 in the rose garden at Liberty Park, in memory of two former members of Sedalia Rose Society, A. A. Ferguson and Betty L. Strole.

Brummet, Rose Show chairman, announced that all plans have been made pertaining to the annual Sedalia Rose Society Show, which will be held May 29 at Smith-Cotton High School Cafeteria.

Bunceton School Holds Spring Concert May 6th

The annual spring concert of Bunceton School was presented May 6 in Bunceton High School Auditorium.

The concert included selections by the 64 voice mixed chorus and 33 piece school band, small group numbers and vocal, as well as instrumental solos. The program was directed by Albert Ellis, music instructor of Bunceton School.

Featured were all numbers receiving honor ratings at the district contest in Warrensburg, and at the state contest at Columbia, earlier this season.

The double mixed quartet gave two selections, "Somebody Cares For Me," by Bill Simons, and "Rejoice," by Theron Kirk. Other features were "Ezekiel Saw The Wheel" and "Land Of Our Hearts," by William Stickles, sung by the girls' sextet.

The band, dressed in full uniform, added a variety of selections.

Letters and awards earned by students in outstanding music achievements of the year were awarded by Supt. Gentry Lowe. The following awards were given:

Musical competition in county, district and state to Brenda Frieling, Linda Stayton, Colleen Smith, Carol Bosau, Linda Martin, Joan Wright, Harland Fricke, Eddie Brickner, Richard Brandes and Robert Warmbrodt.

Honorable mention certificates to Janet Gibson, Norman Fricke and Nancy Smith, the latter three elementary students, not eligible for entry in district or state contests.

Band mothers presented Ellis with an engraved jewel box in appreciation of his work for the past year.

"Enhance the Patio With Bulbs" was the title of a study given by Mrs. Jesse Parsons in April for Otterville Garden Club, following dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Aubrey Bealer, Tipton. Mrs. Frances Johnson assisted in serving.

Mrs. O. W. Howard read "Fashion Notes," written by Mrs. May Leach Varney, former Otterville teacher.

Two table settings, using the theme, "Garden Fiesta," were made by Mrs. Bixler and Mrs. Leo Smith.

Mrs. Forrest Lewis, president, will attend the state convention in St. Louis for the club.

A report on the recent African Violet Tour was given. Twelve members went to the home of Mrs. John Stahls to view her violets, and to the Leonard Volkart home near Compare it!

The smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada!

What's your usual? Rye? Bourbon? Canadian? Compare it with this elegant new import and you'll never settle for less or pay more.

1. Smoother-tasting than any other whisky on the market. Pour two drinks—highball or over ice. Make one with your "usual," the other with Windsor. You'll be amazed at the sippin' smoothness of Windsor.

2. Windsor Canadian is finer tasting, too! No wonder: it's distilled and aged in mile-high, dry Rocky Mountain air, made from hearty Canadian prairie grains and pure, clear glacial water.

3. Priced right in line with leading domestic whiskies. Because we import Windsor, and then bottle it here, you save on duties and other charges—and get this elegant import at an "everyday" price.

4. Windsor Canadian is imported and bottled by National Distillers...producers of some of the world's best-known brands.

5. Compare the price and the smoothness of Windsor. Thousands of Americans already have, and now make Windsor their favorite whisky. Why not join them tonight?

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: A close friend has a four-year-old child. I've developed a terrific dislike for the child and I'm sure others have, too. Whenever the telephone rings the child answers it. She often asks, "Who is this?" And "What do you want Mommy for?" Whenever this friend telephones me she says, "Somebody here wants to talk to you." Then she puts the youngster on.

Is it fair for a mother to inflict her child on anyone who happens to ring up? Is it wise to give a four-year-old the impression that everyone and anyone wants to listen to her babble? I would like to see this letter and your reply in print because others who have this problem must be as baffled as I am.—RESENTFUL.

Dear Resentful: A four-year-old should NOT be permitted to answer the phone, and a mother who inflicts her four-year-old on friends does them a dirty trick. The solution: Tell the mother how you feel.

Dear Ann Landers: I was born and raised in a small town in Ohio. Last Fall I completed a secretarial course. My parents agreed to let me come to Cleveland and share an apartment with my cousin who is 24. I am 20. My folks have a high opinion of my cousin, and so did I, until yesterday.

Last night I left choir practice early because I had a headache. I walked right in on my cousin and a fellow I had never seen before. Both my cousin and the fellow were very embarrassed—and they had a right to be. I

Air Traveler Not Happy With His Lot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Brian Robson, 19, is a homesick Welsh traveler who tried to express himself home from Australia in a crate aboard a jet airliner.

Robson, who said he was trying to get to Britain as cheaply as possible, shipped himself c.o.d., billed as a computer.

After 92 hours — the last 14 spent stalled on what seemed an interminable stopover — the youth decided to emerge from the box and see where he was.

"I wasn't too healthy," said Robson in the prison ward of County General Hospital, where Immigration Service authorities took him Sunday after smashing open the box in an airport warehouse.

He said three companions had nailed him into the crate in Melbourne and forwarded him to Sydney on an Ansett-Australian National Airlines plane. The crate measured 30 by 26 by 38 inches and was provided with special panels which were supposed to break when he hammered on them.

But they didn't. Instead, his hammer did, and he had to call for help. He got help, but now he wonders where it is going to get him.

He hopes authorities, now that he's been booked on federal charges as a stowaway and illegal entrant to the United States, will deport him home to Cardiff, South Wales. He left 10 months ago, with the Australian government paying his fare under a program to attract skilled settlers.

Robson, smiling and talking cheerfully, sipped at soup and milk attendants gave him to relieve his dehydrated condition.

"I was dead scared from the moment I started," he said. "But I just couldn't afford to get home any other way and I had to make it." He said his disappointment with his Australian railroad job and his home-sickness got the better of him.

His training as an apprentice electrician gave him the idea of labeling his crate "Ajax junior computer."

"But they sure didn't handle it like a computer," he said. "At one point they turned me upside down and left me that way for 22 hours. What a headache I had when they finally righted me."

He arrived in Los Angeles aboard a Pan American flight from Sydney — a 21-hour, 7,716-mile hop. In the crate the 5-foot-8, 140-pound Robson carried a small suitcase, two pint-sized water bottles, two magazines, a flashlight to read by and seven cookies.

He said that by 8 a.m. he had decided that if in two hours the crate hadn't been hoisted aboard a plane he planned to break out.

"Then I got faint and started to hammer my way out," Pan American authorities said the crate would not have left for London until noon today.

Business Analysis

Excise Tax Cuts May Add Welcome Spending Impetus

NEW YORK (AP) — What ever cuts in excise taxes Congress finally makes the boost to the economy could be a lot larger than the revenue loss to the Treasury.

Just how big a boost is hard to pinpoint because it involves pricing policies of corporations and the mushrooming effect that lower price tags can have on consumer spending urges.

But both the administration and business are counting upon a considerable impetus to spending, and hence all the way back the line to production.

The impetus will be welcome since the Treasury will be collecting about $4.7 billion more from employees and employers in higher Social Security tax rates starting Jan. 1. That is, it will be taking that much more out of the economy that might otherwise be spent for goods and services. Increased Social Security benefits for retired persons to spend will make up for only part of this drain.

Just how many more furs, jewelry, luggage and cosmetics will be bought if he 10 per cent federal excise levy at retail (a sales tax) is dropped can't be forecast for sure. But merchants think the lower prices will bring these items into the family budget range of many more persons, and also lure hordes of bargain seekers who ant, said he saw a flashlight shining through a small hole Robson had managed to pound before the hammer broke.

"Can you get me out?" asked Robson.

Hatch said he would have to call authorities. He called customs, immigration, public health and police, among others.

His secret power drives women wild

Women just cannot resist a man who can give bright new beauty to the interior walls of their home. And it's so easy to hold this magnetic power over women when you paint with new one-coat DA-TEX wall paint. New DA-TEX is far better than old-style latex wall paints because it's Densi-tized. Its heavier body makes it cling to your brush or roller like no other wall paint can. There's less drip. Less spatter. And new Densi-tized DA-TEX dries in just 23 minutes with no painty odor. You've read about new DA-TEX in LIFE magazine; now try it for yourself. There's a wide selection of new decorator colors at

Churchmen To Attend Assembly

Twenty-four Missouri churchmen representing the presbyteries of Carthage-Ozark, Kirk, St. Joseph, St. Louis, Sedalia, Iron Mountain and Kansas City will be among the 835 commissioners attending the 177th United Presbyterian General Assembly, May 20-26, in Columbus, Ohio.

The General Assembly, which meets annually, is the supreme governing body of the 3.3 million member denomination. Commissioners are elected on the basis of one minister and one elder for every 8,500 communicant members of each of the church's 196 presbyteries.

Among important issues that the commissioners will help determine are a position paper on racism, a revised statement of faith and reports on ecumenical relations with the Roman Catholic, Orthodox and Protestant churches.

The statement on racism, in essence, "repudiates as blasphemous and heresy racism and all its manifestations in the life of the church and its members."

A proposed brief contemporary statement of faith updates the denomination's theological beliefs in an attempt to be "the church reformed and ever being reformed," according to Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, the church's executive officer.

Also to be acted upon are recommendations dealing with such issues as poverty, nuclear war, narcotics, population control, urban renewal.

Sedalia Presbytery commissioners will be the Rev. Charles O. Churchill, Jefferson City, and Ira M. Wilson, Versailles.

Mrs. Fairchild Leads Study On 'Lot Lives'

Mrs. John Fairchild was program leader for the book study, "Lot Lives," May 5 at Buncheon Baptist Church for Women's Missionary Union.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Louis Hurt and Mrs. John Gerhardt. Mrs. Helen Filler gave the prayer.

Mrs. Mable Edwards, president, presided during the business session. Secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. George Harned.

Each member contributed gifts for the Strawberry Festival to be at the Children's Home at Pattonville. Gifts are to be brought to the next meeting for the aged at Ironton.

Mrs. Hurt reported on the Girls' Auxiliary banquet held on April 29 at Versailles.

Miss Sue Shirley gave the benediction.

Longwood Women Tour And Hold Clothing Lesson

Members of Longwood Extension Club toured Kim Originals recently, preceding a meeting at the home of Mrs. Tom Harvey.

Mrs. John Leftwich, clothing chairman, gave a lesson. Mrs. George Harvey told "ABC's of Clothing" and distributed sentences for members to read, concerning hints, how to choose clothing. Model was Mrs. Farris Zimmerman. Mrs. Harvey added to her basic costume, hats, jewelry and scarfs to show "do's and don'ts" of proper accessorizing.

It was reported that 221 cancer dressings had been completed. Membership voted to contribute $5 to the Cancer Drive.

Mrs. Raymond Hurt, reading chairman, told of new bulletins available at Pettis County Extension Office.

Mrs. John Greer led singing. Two poems by Hazel N. Lang were read for devotional.

The annual wiener roast for members and families will be at 7 p.m. May 22 at Liberty Park. Members of 4-H Club and their parents will be guests.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clay Leftwich, with an international and family life program.

Missourians Support St. Louis Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Missouri delegation sought an accelerated financing schedule for a St. Louis harbor study and Mississippi River navigation improvements before a House committee Monday.

The Missourians supported additional funds for these projects starting the fiscal year July 1.

For the St. Louis harbor study, $150,000 instead of the $50,000 provided in the administration budget.

A 9-foot navigation channel on the Mississippi above the mouth of the Ohio at Cairo, Ill., and $4 million for continued construction against $1.5 million in the budget.

Reinstitute a survey of a 12-foot channel of this same stretch of the river, and on the Illinois waterway, $117,000. The budget now contains no recommendation for this project.

Delegation spokesmen pointed out that periods of low water along the Mississippi are costly to the area's economy.

'Grammy' Winners Impressive

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For the past three years, the recording industry's "Best on Record" television special — paying tribute to winners of its "Grammy Awards" — has been dogged with tough luck.

In 1963, the special starring some winners in the various categories was scheduled for showing the night of Nov. 24. It was canceled because of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. It did reach the air a couple of weeks later, but the long publicity build-up for a big audience was washed out.

Last year the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences didn't even try to build a special, but there were big plans for the 1965 show, scheduled on NBC tonight.

It presents unique problems for its producer. The performers in the "Grammy Show" may be scattered all over the world, in Broadway shows, road tours, night clubs, motion pictures. The show must go, in many cases, to them.

Out of all this turmoil, however, a pretty impressive list of guest stars and "Grammy" winners has emerged, including The Beatles in an interview by Peter Sellers taped in London; Sammy Davis, Carol Channing, Roger Miller, Petula Clark, Tony Bennett and many others.

The first-color television transmission from Europe by Early Bird satellite certainly should have been something more noteworthy than NBC's perfunctory "A New Look at Olde England" Monday night. It consisted of a lot of old familiar scenes including the inevitable Big Ben and changing-the-guard bits and pedestrian interviews with some long-haired young men of the type we encounter weekly on American television variety shows.

Now that there is a way to transmit speedily moving pictures across the ocean, the networks obviously don't quite know what to do with it. A trite half-hour feature on London, which might have been sent here by packet ship, cannot be the answer.

Bill To Provide God, Country Plaque

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts Senate has passed a bill providing that a plaque reading, "For God and country," may be placed in public schools.

The bill passed on a voice vote Monday over the opposition of Sen. William I. Randall, a Yale graduate, who said the plaque might be made to read, "For God, for country and for Yale."

"The silly season has started when we start passing legislation like this," Randall said.

Sen. Mary L. Fonseca, retorted, "If he is going to say the words 'For God and country' are silly then we have reached a new low in legislating."

presenting views of citizens of all walks of life in the City of Sedalia, Missouri.

"The cross section of opinion expressed surely represents practically all of the thousands of persons who would have signed if the opportunity had been presented in an organized drive.

"These citizens respectfully request the Mayor and City Council to call a referendum on any application for franchise or license to operate a CATV or cable television in the City of Sedalia.

"The Television Association of Sedalia, KDRO Radio Station, and KMOS-TV joins with these citizens in making this request for an ordinance governing CATV referendum.

"The Mayor and City Council would be entirely justified in denying a franchise or license because the question is not merely a license for the licensing of a routine business in the exercise of free enterprise; On the contrary, the cable system seeks special privileges, using public properties, easements, and right of ways, which is not required by ordinary businesses.

"We respectfully request that the Mayor and City Council please take note of the fact that the following Central Missouri cities, Jefferson City, Columbia, Mexico, Fulton, Hannibal, St. Louis, California, and Fayette, Missouri, have either rejected or postponed any action on CATV at this time.

"We respectfully request that the Mayor and City Council acknowledge the citizens through petitions to pass the ordinance for the citizens' right to vote on CATV.

"We sincerely hope that the voice of the people can be heard on this vital issue."

"SIGNED:
Claude Knight,
Chairman, Sedalia
Television Assn.
James F. Glenn
KDRO Radio Station.

Knight then produced a resolution which was adopted by the Television Electronic Service Association of Missouri, affiliated with the national association, on March 30, 1965. The resolution pointed out the danger of CATV as the association sees it to the survival of many TV stations now on the air, jeopardizes careful development of channel allocation by the FCC. The resolution was signed by Robert Ferguson of Columbia, Mo., who is district governor of Missouri for TESA.

In his remarks to Knight, Wesner asked, "Are you a self appointed guardian angel of the people?" Knight retorted, "No I am representing our association here in Sedalia."

Knight then presented an ordinance to Mayor Studer which he asked to be read. The ordinance, he explained, being a copy of that on which a franchise or license had been passed by ordinance for the Missouri Public Service Co. He then requested the ordinance be read and City Clerk Ralph Dedrick read the ordinance.

Wesner asked Knight who prepared the ordinance and pointed out the Missouri Public Service Commission didn't have any control over CATV because it is not a public utility. Knight explained he didn't get it from the Missouri Public Service Commission, that he got it from the city ordinance for the Missouri Public Service Co.

Knight went on to explain that there were many people who worked to obtain signatures on the petitions for a special election to ascertain if Sedalia wanted or didn't want CATV. He continued by explaining that he felt the Council should give more time to the subject and learn of the items being discussed opposing CATV nationally, before the Council acted on any license or franchise.

He also pointed out several challenges against CATV over program rights, and suits are on file with reference to relaying network programs. Also of laws which will put CATV under the Federal Communication Commission.

William F. Brown, attorney referred to remarks by Knight that it was a "closed circuit" system and denied CATV is anywhere close to "closed circuit" and this was not involved. Awarding the license is not an exclusive project, he explained.

Knight asked the mayor if this was a franchise, or the license was exclusive, to which Mayor Studer said, "Well we aren't going to issue licenses to all five."

Knight then asked Councilman Ralph Walker to present the petitions for the special election. Walker said: "CATV failed in Columbia, and other towns in Missouri. There are always two sides to a subject and I think we should give the people a chance to decide." He then walked to the rostrum and presented to the city clerk the petitions which he said contain more than 2,200 signatures who have sworn they are legal voters. "I have tried to remain neutral on this subject and be broad-minded about it, but I feel the people have a right to express themselves at the polls," Walker said.

Wesner then stated that the election could be held, then explained a suit will be filed in Circuit Court for a declaratory judgment to determine if it is legal.

During the discussion something was said about violation of copyright laws. Attorney Robert Fritz said, "If there are any copyrights violated, my company, Commonwealth - Sedalia CATV, Inc., will see they are paid. There is no infringement on any copyrights, we are only giving the television viewer a better picture," Fritz said.

Jimmy Glenn of KDRO radio presented the city clerk with a copy of remarks in the Congressional Record regarding CATV, which were not read to the Council, but made a matter of record.

Councilman Walter Jessee referred to the petitions said, "I had people call me about those petitions, and asked if they should sign them. I told them 'just sign it if you want to' and I guess some did."

Roy Luchs, explaining he was neither in the radio or television business service, had a few questions which he said he believed the people should know the answers. "Are you going to issue a franchise or license?"

The answer was a license. "Is the firm going to use city easements to put out their cables?" The mayor said, "Only on existing telephone and utility poles." "Any height regulations?" It was explained the tower would be erected under specifications approved by the government.

"Is this a public utility like the telephone or electric company?" The answer was no. "Are you going to grant more than one license?" and the mayor quickly remarked, "no," and said, "The firm to get the license will pay a percentage of revenue to the city."

Herb Brandes of KDRO radio, stated he had a national study from the National Association of Broadcasters on the effect CATV would have on radio and television stations locally as to their economic status. He asked that Glenn read the report which was made last October, and Glenn read the report.

Monty Gurwit, program director of KOMU-TV, Channel 8, Columbia, was given time on the floor and explained he was not here to try and delve into Sedalia's affairs about CATV, but realized the importance of the project as to how CATV would affect KOMU-TV in an economical way, and especially KMOS-TV, Channel 6, in Sedalia.

In his remarks, he pointed out by asking questions, saying, "If KMOS-TV is forced out, who is going to do public service on television for Sedalia, the United Fund, local spot news, airing public opinions, etc.? We in Columbia give much free time to the Missouri State Fair as a public service, and we consider Sedalia a part of our trade territory, just like KMOS considers our area its trade territory. Who is going to furnish the local affairs over TV to the people living in the country who can't have CATV? And who will see the retired and ill who enjoy their hometown television station, and local information, when CATV comes? These people can't afford CATV from their pension checks, even the smallest charge is a big cut out of their funds, they'll not be able to enjoy it as they do now."

Knight remarked, "We would still like to have a meeting with the Council, the same as the CATV people did and discuss this with you. Also, we would like to see the Council give consideration to those 2,200 signatures of people who want an election on the proposal."

Mayor Studer then called for the opening of bids from the five firms bidding on the Sedalia license. They were as follows:

United Video Systems, Inc., Kansas City, 5 per cent up to 2,999 subscribers; 5.25 per cent to 3,999; 5.5 per cent of 4,000 or more. Service charge not to exceed $5.50 per month plus 50-cents for each additional connection. Installation charge, 45-days free period, $7.50 for 2,000 after that no charge.

Total Television of Sedalia, Inc., Vumore Company, 5 1/2 per cent minimum of $100 a month whichever is the greater, 6 per cent when subscribers are in excess of 5,000. Service charge of $4.75 additional outlet 55-cents and commercial $1. No installation charge.

Sedalia Cable TV, Inc., Cable T-V Construction Inc., Larry D. Hudson, president, Iola, Kan., offered 10 per cent to the city, a guarantee of $5,000 per year.

to Lafayette, 15th Street north to the alley on Lafayette and from 15th to 16th Street on Lafayette.

Also approved and ordered an

Service charge of $4.50. No installation charge.

Meredith-Avco, Inc., 5 per cent to city, $4.95 service charge and $1.00 for an additional outlet. $10 for initial installation plus 50-cents for each additional connection.

Commonwealth Sedalia CATV, Inc., 5 per cent plus ad valorem taxes, county, school taxes, $4.95 service charge with not more than two sets, a third set and other additions at $1 each. Installation charges, a 30 day free period, maximum of $10, second connection $7.50.

Councilman Robert Wells said, "This is a hard decision to make, but considering the benefits the city will derive from this, I move we accept the Sedalia Cable TV of Iola, Kan. It was seconded by Walter Jessee. On a voice vote there were several no votes and Mayor Studer asked for a roll call.

Voting for the motion were James Schumaker, R. N. Snaveley, Jessee, Wells, and Ray Simon. Three voted no. They were James Askren, Floyd Priddy and Walker.

The motion made by Wells also stipulated the firm would have to meet the specifications as drafted by the City Council, have a good financial backing, agreement on a selling clause, and agree to all proposals which would be set out in a city ordinance.

Jessee pointed out that if any firm got the license they would have to have a no sale agreement for a certain length of time. "We are not going to issue a license and let the person go out and peddle the license to someone else."

Following the awarding of the license and after the Council audience had left the chambers, Councilman Walker said, "I want to state I did not appreciate the way Mr. Knight was treated here while appearing before the Council. It was uncalled for when several persons laughed and clapped their hands over remarks being made while being questioned."

Councilman Jessee followed up by saying, "I agree with you, it should never happen."

ordinance drawn for curb and guttering on 11th Street from Marvin to Hancock on both sides of the street.

A request of the Yellow Cab Co., for parking area on Lamine in the 500 block was referred to the Traffic Committee.

Two bids were opened on rock for the Street and Alley Department, one from Menefee Construction Co., bids of $1.45 a ton on one grade of rock, $1.50 on another grade and $1.35 on two other grades and 90 cents on still another. Howard Construction Co. bid $1.35 on three grades, $1.25 on another and 85 cents on the lower grade.

The bids were referred back to the Street and Alley Department for the best bid.

Two bids were received on road gravel, one from S. H. Bishop and Elmer Lane for creek gravel at $1.90 per cubic yard, and another from Vencil Bishop for $1.89 per cubic yards. The bids were turned over to the Street and Alley Committee for the best bid.

Bids were opened for two trucks for the Street and Alley Department to be used as dump trucks. Adams Truck Co., on an International truck bid $4,725 each with the trade-in of two old '57 Chevrolet trucks; Thompson and Greer Motor Co., on a Ford truck, bid $8,679.44 for the two or an alternate bid of $4,339.72 for one truck; Bryant Motor Co., on Dodge trucks bid $8,679.44 for two or an alternate bid of $4,195 with a trade; Mike O'Connor Motor Co., bid on two GMC trucks with trade in of one was $4,097.11 and a second trade in on the second truck $4,197.11 while on two Chevrolets it was $4,120.85 and the second $4,220.85.

The bids were turned over to the committee to accept the best bid.

Councilman Walter Jessee, chairman of the committee, asked for a meeting at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning to go over the bids.

Councilman R. N. Snaveley reporting for Fire and Water Committee said "Due to an error in describing the date calling for bids on fire hose, I move that the City Council's acceptance of the sold bid received on the date of the Council meeting May 3, be rejected and that new bids be called for." The motion carried. Snaveley explained an error in typing caused the misunderstanding among prospective bidders.

A request to install two high-way lights on Crescent Drive in place of the usual residential lights was made by Councilman James Askren, as a safety factor. He also requested a light be placed between Montebau and Vermont on Third Street. The Council approved an ordinance being drawn for both recommendations.

Councilman Robert Wells under the report of the Sewer and Sanitation Committee, asked bids be opened on a truck and also bids on two garbage collection bodies for the trucks. Bryant Motor Co., bid $2,921.40 on a truck and without certain equipment $2,895; Adams Truck Co., bid $3,297.10; and Mike O'Connor Motor Co., bid $3,087.34.

The Burnup Equipment Co. Inc., of Independence, bid $5,625 on a 13 cubic yard garbage body and $6,125 on a 16 cubic yard truck; M and E Sales Inc., Kansas City, Kan., bid $5,530 on a dumping type body and $5,680 on an ejection type body, both 16 cubic yards capacity.

All bids were referred back to the Committee for the best bid.

The City had requested bids from several Certified Public Accountants for the auditing of the City books, and three firms notified the City they were not permitted to make or name any competitive figure according to the ethics of the profession. Selection of an auditing firm was left up to the discretion of the Finance Committee.

The Council passed unanimously as an emergency, a Resolution whereby the Finance Committee would include in the budget for next year $16,500 as Sedalia's part of matching funds for construction of an addition to the present hard surface runway and additional runway lights at the local airport. This amount to be matched by the Federal Government.

Two ordinances were read for the first time, one establishing a fire hydrant at 24th street and Quincy and another at 24th and Emmet; Ordinance regulating and licensing insurance agents, compelling them to register all firms they represent prior to Jan. 1, each year and pay such license fees as the original ordinance provides.

Two liquor by the drink licenses were approved, one for the Jockey Club at 2209 South Limit and the other for the Main Street Bar, 206 East Main.

Members of the Council approved an expenditure of $2,500, later to be refunded by the Federal Government, to establish an emergency warning alert system in the basement of the City Hall. A nation-wide hookup is now located in the police department headquarters and in case of an emergency the system would be operated from the basement facilities and so equipped that operations there could be carried on underground for at least 14 days. The project is under Civil Defense.

Chief of Police William Miller explained a meeting was held the past week by Mayor Studer and the Chief of the Civil Defense out of St. Louis at which time the matter was discussed.

Chief Miller then turned to the subject of standardizing the burglar alarm systems located at police headquarters. He explained that recently many Sedalia business firms have installed alarm systems. "We have every type of alarm there from horns and bells to buzzers. I would

Loungers and Crackpots

Over the weekend in separate conversations with other persons comments were heard about the importance of high school graduates continuing their education.

Without a college education a young person entering adulthood will be handicapped in all the fields of human endeavor. The reasoning is based on the competitive factor because so many young persons round out preparation for careers in higher educational institutions.

This current day theory is generally accepted as axiomatic. School drop outs who challenge this will soon learn its truth.

However, going to college or graduating therefrom is not for some candidates the indispensable formula for a successful career. Colleges are and will be full of students whose objectives are not altogether educational. Many attend for the social life, the so-called prestige, or the hope of association with intelligentsia. Their concentration on the subject matter of college instruction is limited to getting by with the least effort.

We forgot to mention the crackpot fringe, representatives of whom bamboozle their parents into paying their way through college while they engage in all sorts of questionable extra curricula activities.

We could not help but cringe reading about W. Averell Harriman, undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, attempting to explain U. S. policy in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic to students at Cornell University. He was subjected to heckling, boos and hisses. Because of the "unruly" audience a scheduled question-and-answer session was called off.

Something similar is occurring at other institutions of higher education. Students come not to hear and debate but to jeer and disrupt normal educational procedures arranged to inform those who are genuinely concerned and uncertain about the trend of world affairs.

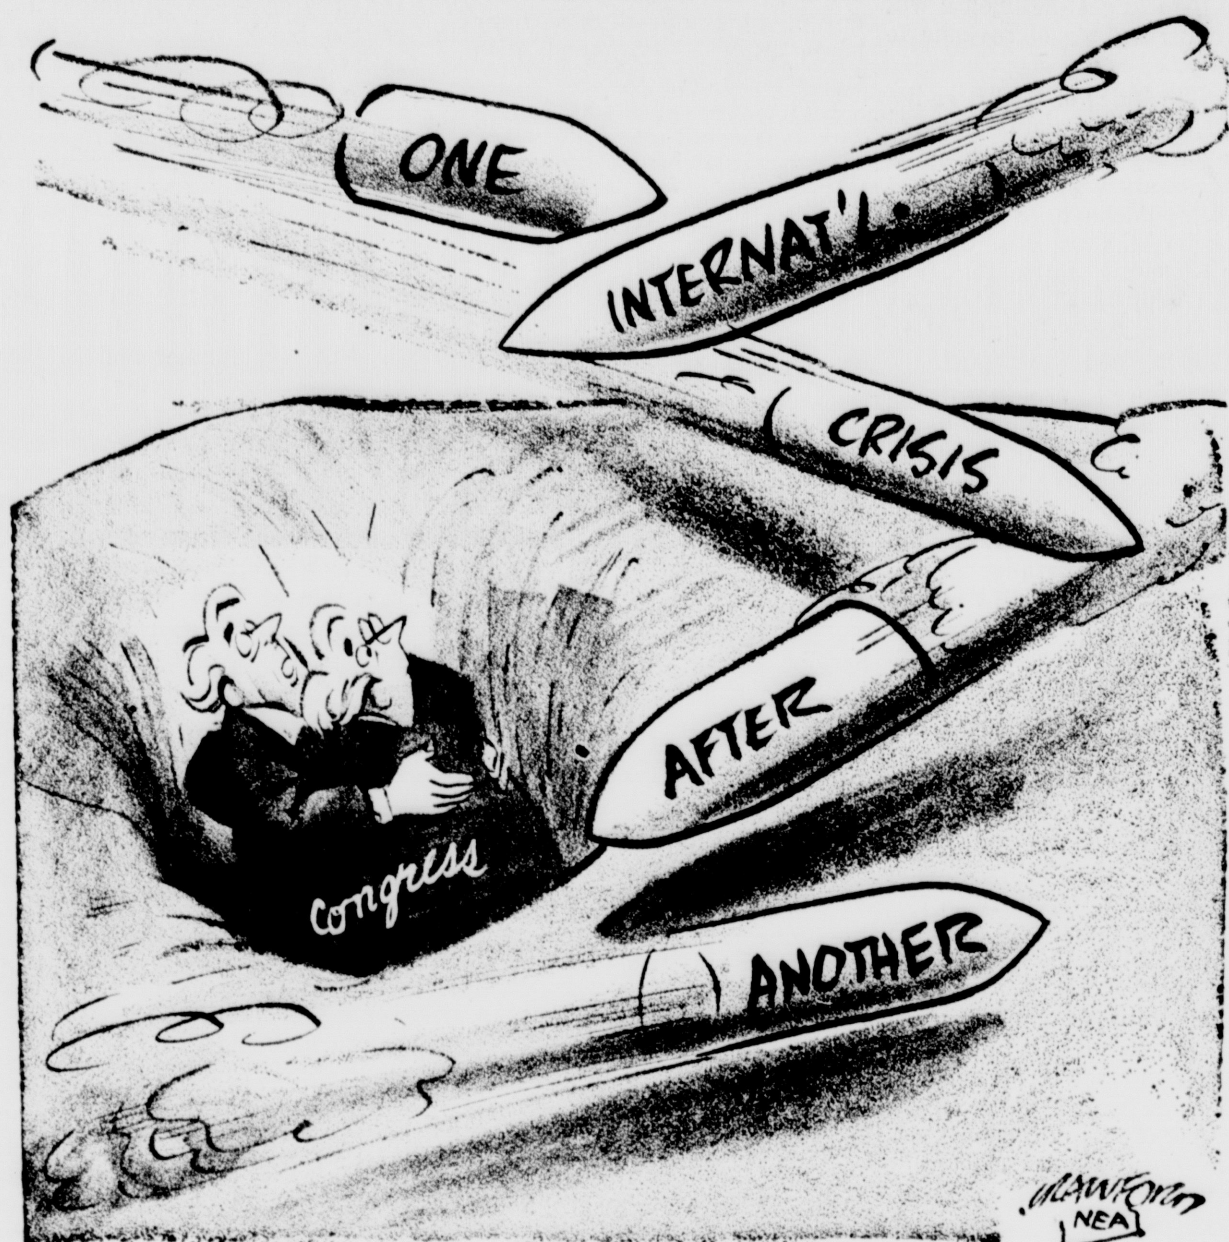

These minority groups — and they are minority — are, as one writer expressed it, truly reminiscent of the methods the Bolsheviks and Nazis used in shouting down parliamentary opposition when they were maneuvering for power. This is authenticated not only by historical documents but also by daily newspaper accounts of such activities preceding, during and after two World Wars.

Are we in for a repetition of these continuing procedures in our college environments? It is regrettable that the disturbers whose motives are open to question have to be tolerated, but it is better they operate out in the open than in dismal darkness of the underground.

However, the smudge they smear upon the environment of colleges should not deter young people who do not want to become school drop outs. Those who desire a college education and are determined to apply themselves energetically toward obtaining it can do so without being diverted by either lazy loungers, or a few crackpots.

Johnson On the Hook In Latin Nations

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson not only ran up against history. He got hung on a hook.

He got on the hook when he sent Marines into the Dominican Republic. This was intervention in the internal affairs of a Latin American country, something the United States had promised not to do.

The promise is in writing even though Johnson gave two reasons for his action: first, to save American lives in the Dominican revolution, next, to prevent a Communist takeover.

He hasn't changed that second position even though the leader of the rebels, Col. Francisco Caamaño Domo, on Sunday pictured himself on national television in this country as anti-Communist.

Reports from the Dominican Republic say anti-American feeling is tense among the rebels against the conservative and unelected junta which this country had been backing. This is where Johnson ran into history.

In this century's first 30 years, presidents ordered Marines into various Latin-American countries for various reasons and sometimes kept them there for years. Anti-Americanism covered the southern continent.

Worse still for American popularity and influence, this government repeatedly backed dictators. President Franklin D. Roosevelt tried to wipe out these memories with his good-neighbor policy.

He stopped interventions, promising there would be no more. After the war the United States made several agreements with its Latin neighbors on this subject, saying so.

Particularly, the United States agreed to the charter of the Organization of American States which says: "No state or group of states has the right to intervene directly or indirectly for any reason whatever in the internal or external affairs of any other state."

Three years ago the foreign ministers of the OAS, including the American, also agreed that "the principles of communism are incompatible with the principles of the inter-American system."

Johnson has cited that second agreement in defense of his use of Marines, but that agreement didn't give any American country the right to intervene on its own against communism or for any other reason in any other country.

But, if Communists are as much of a threat in the Dominican Republic as Johnson seems to think, then if he took no action he might face the same kind of dilemma and embarrassment that hit President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Fidel Castro, in the years he led the Cuban revolution against the dictator, Fulgencio Batista, long backed by the United States, never represented himself as a Communist. Then, when he took over, there was communism on the front steps of the United States.

Eisenhower was criticized heatedly for letting it happen. But this was near the end of his second term, too late to hurt him politically. Johnson could be hurt politically if he did nothing to stop a Red grab in the Dominican Republic.

He may have felt it was better to risk the wrath of Latin Americans for intervening than the fury of Americans if he didn't.

Actually, Eisenhower did set the wheels in motion against Castro, despite the OAS agreement against intervention. Under Eisenhower the Central Intelligence Agency began training Cuban rebels for invasion of their homeland.

The invasion was carried out under President John F. Kennedy, was a disaster, and probably made him reluctant to try anything of the kind again soon, although he did quarantine Cuba during the 1962 missile crisis. But this was such a brush Soviet attempt to move into this hemisphere, that the OAS approved the quarantine.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

To Keep Acting Young, You Need Healthy Feet

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

It has been said that, although a man may be as old as his feet, he acts as old as his feet. This will strike you with added force if you try to see a fair or tour a city in one day.

Here are some ways you can insure foot comfort. Socks or stockings that are cotton or at least have cotton soles are best for absorbing perspiration. This helps to prevent burning and itching. They should be well-fitted because socks that are either too small or too large will cause trouble. A hole in the heel or the toe can also add to your misery.

When buying shoes you should fit your foot — not the prevailing style. Your shoes should have plenty of room for toes. Cramping your feet will cramp your style.

Walking shoes should have low or medium heels. Women's stiletto heels may be fine weapons, but they're tiresome to walk in. Women who insist on wearing them would do well to carry a pair of comfortable well-broken-in walking shoes with them. The World's Fair, for example, is too big to be seen in one day, so don't try. You should alternate walking with periods of rest to get the most out of your excursion. If you are tired when you start out you should wait until a day when you feel like conquering the world. That's the only way you will be able to conquer even a small part of it.

After a day of happy sightseeing, bathe your feet. Then, after drying them, elevate them on a stool or couch. If, in spite of these precautions, a blister or two develops, don't open them with a pin or needle. The covering of dead skin gives any infection the needle may have introduced just the protection it needs. Instead, clean the area with alcohol, remove the dead skin with a pair of sterile scissors nearly, but not fully, to the edge of the blister. Apply an antiseptic such as thimerosal and cover with a plastic bandage or sterile dressing.

Keep Shelves Organized

By Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — My canned goods storage shelves are deeper than they should be for real convenience. The back part of the shelves became a conglomerate mixture of different foods in different sizes because I never reached into the dark recesses. There was such a hodgepodge that I longed more than ever for pull-out shelves so I could see what I had and keep things organized.

I created my own pull-out shelves from strong cardboard grocery cartons the same size as the width of the shelves. I cut them down so that all that was left was the bottom and from two to four inches around the sides. This little edge keeps cans from falling when the box is pulled out. Each box contains specific items — vegetables, soups, fruit, etc., and each box front is labeled accordingly. When I reach for a can of tuna I know I am going to get tuna. I merely pull out the sliding box to see my entire stock of a particular item, am able to use older ones from the rear, rotate the contents effortlessly and save myself time and unnecessary frustration. — MRS. V. C. W.

DEAR POLLY — We had three small rugs made to match our new living room rug and placed them over places that receive the most wear. The corners soon began to curl up, so we came up with what we feel is the perfect solution. We cut a strip of plastic bottle, about one inch by eight inches, one for each corner. They were attached to the rug with iron-on patches about one and a half inches bigger in each direction than the plastic strips. Plastic has a slight natural curl and should be placed to curve down toward the floor. More or less curl can be obtained by heating an iron (over the patch, of course) and bending the plastic with fingers. — EDITH.

Viet Nam War Has Its Own Share of Colorful Fliers

By HAL BOYLE
DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Harry the Horse" delivers the goods in South Viet Nam.

He is Lt. Col. Harry G. Howton, commander of the 311th Air Commando Squadron and one of the most colorful fliers on the battlefield here.

This is the third war for the 47-year-old, leathery-faced officer who comes from Birmingham, Ala., and has three children.

Still a "gung ho" airman at an age when many of his contemporaries are flight-borne only in swivel chairs, Harry's decorations include 11 Oak Leaf Clusters to his Air Medal. He has been checked out in more than 100 types of aircraft.

He flew 46 combat missions in the Far East during World War II and 58 in Korea in 1950. Since coming out here last October he has been on 380 missions.

He is called "Harry the Horse" because he and his men are literally the aerial workhorses of the war.

Their steeds are big two-engined C123s which lumber through the skies at 150 knots like huge noisy flying factories.

The planes can land and take off on a 1,400-foot runway or less and carry about twice the load of the old C47s, the workhorse of World War II.

The 311th Air Commando Squadron is one of four of its type in this area. It has 17 planes, of which about 14 usually are operational at any one time.

It has many missions. It carries the mail, evacuates wounded, injured or ailing Americans to the U.S. Army 8th Field Hospital at Nha Trang.

At night a crew may be called out to drop flares to pinpoint the position of enemy Viet Cong making a nocturnal assault.

But their main job is to serve as a lifeline to Vietnamese and U.S. special forces units in isolated mountain bastions between here and the Laotian border.

Troops and supplies of all kinds are either landed at small perilous strips near the outposts or dropped by parachutes.

"We'll carry or drop anything that fits into the plane," Howton said.

The work is difficult and dangerous but rarely monotonous. The four-man crews wear flak outfits, but their thin aircraft are frequently ventilated by guerrilla ground fire.

"About 10 to 15 airplanes get hit a month, and a number of our men have been wounded, but we've never had a fatality from enemy fire," said Howton.

The pilots fly as many as 10 combat sorties a day. "Harry the Horse" often does, too. Despite his executive duties, in a recent 20-day period he flew 105 missions.

DALLAS MORNING NEWS: Travel Safety. — American railroads continue to better their already enviable travel safety record. The Association of American Railroads reports that only 11 passenger fatalities occurred last year in carrying 314 million people for a total of 18.3 billion passenger miles. This is a fatality rate of only 0.06 per 100 million passenger miles.

Compared with other forms of travel, on the basis of miles traveled, the railroads were twice as safe as domestic airlines, 40 per cent safer than buses and 20 times as safe as private automobiles. But a big question is how much longer passenger train service will remain available for many towns and cities in various parts of the nation. Passenger train patronage continues to decrease annually. Safety, it would seem, is no longer a paramount consideration in travel.

Ted Kennedy Strong In Home State

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — By midsummer Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy's strong hand could begin to have decisive effect on the recently wild course of Democratic politics in Massachusetts. Both the governorship and a U. S. Senate seat are at stake next year.

The whole weird tangle is suffused with the aura of the Kennedy family and their old associates, which is why the nation is looking in on it.

Unless Congress lingers much longer, Ted Kennedy should know by mid-August whether Lawrence O'Brien, his late brother's trusted organizer and now President Johnson's top congressional liaison man, wants to try for either the governor's chair or the Senate.

Possibly Kenneth O'Donnell, another veteran of John F. Kennedy's inner circle, will by then have tested the Massachusetts winds enough to decide whether he should make a serious run.

From knowledgeable sources, the word is that Kennedy today sees O'Brien as the more salable of these two in a governorship race. The young senator is not yet openly committed in any way. But the people pressing O'Brien to keep the door open have very high credentials.

Some of Ted Kennedy's Massachusetts contingent doubt that either O'Brien or O'Donnell is sufficiently known there to make a winning race. They hope the senator lands on Maurice Donohue of Holyoke, Democratic president of the state Senate and a man with a good deal of independent political strength with both the Kennedy followers and the old-line professionals who don't like the Kennedys.

Donohue's problem is image. He is said to come across on television like a stern schoolmaster. One observation:

"If we could get him to look like Ronald Reagan, you could just send a big scale here to weigh the votes."

At next year's party convention (whose verdict is advisory and must still be followed by a September primary), Ted Kennedy would command the largest bloc of delegate votes — though not a majority.

Furthermore, his backers — the Kennedy "campaign secretaries" of earlier days — now dominate the Democratic state committee and bulk heavily on many county, city and ward committees.

On top of these things, Teddy has charisma — the curious star quality that served John Kennedy so well. Says a friend: "Plug him into a wall and everybody lights up. And he uses that to a fare-thee-well."

Ted is determined to exert leadership in Massachusetts party affairs, and especially in the coming 1966 races.

Yet, for all his strong intentions and his sturdy party position, Kennedy does not have truly full command in Massachusetts.

Kennedy's problem is to break into the old-line group to get his majority. The man he'll pick to do it will have no free ride to the top.

The Mature Parent

Sympathy Doesn't Help

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My husband drinks. Last week — end when he came home liquored up, my oldest child — a girl of 15 — left the house to stay with my sister. She says she won't come home. I guess my husband is a real alcoholic. When he is liquored up he is so abusive and wild that the neighbors complain to the police. We have three younger children. God knows he has put me through enough for the last four years but what I can't forgive is what he is doing to the children. They are so ashamed of him.

ANSWER: Congratulate yourself. You are aware of their hurt. That sympathy for the suffering of the children of alcoholic fathers is, apparently, rare in their mothers. According to a recent study of the families of alcoholic husbands, their wives "pamper" them and pay little attention to the children. Says the report:

"The parents are intensely and resentfully involved with each other. Apparently, the father has been in competition with the children from their birth and is always given preference by the mother. Instead of receiving any understanding of their suffering from her, they are required to understand her suffering."

You're not like that. You resent the hurts being inflicted on your children. Take the next step. Know your own resentment at the hurts being inflicted on you.

It is healthy to resent the demanding tantrums of alcoholics. It's fine to resent the noisy abusiveness that overwhelms everybody else in the family, the absences which torture everybody with terror of the disasters the alcoholic may be incurring, the stupors that maintain everyone in suspenseful wonder about what he'll do when he wakes up.

As you seem on the edge of knowing your resentment at these demands, it may be time for you to write Al-Anon Family Group Headquarters, Inc., an agency which seeks to encourage alcoholics' families to respect their own needs for attention. Its address is P.O. Box 12, Madison Square Station, New York, N. Y. 10010. It will refer you to its nearest local branch.

Purposes Of Mission Are Secret

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operating in extraordinary secrecy, President Johnson sent a high-level mission to the Dominican Republic last weekend. Its evident three-fold objective: to end the civil war, bring dissident elements into a provisional coalition government and keep Communists from gaining control.

U.S. officials tried to keep the mission's presence in Santo Domingo a secret, and once the secret was out both the White House and the State Department remained tight-lipped about its purposes.

The mission is composed of McGeorge Bundy, a presidential assistant on national security affairs; Thomas C. Mann, undersecretary of state; Cyrus R. Vance, undersecretary of defense, and Jack H. Vaughn, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. They have been the President's chief advisers since the Dominican crisis erupted April 24.

But while Washington officials refuse to talk for publication about the mission, Latin-American diplomats are quite willing to discuss the matter. They say the President obviously was motivated by efforts to:

1. Bring the two major forces in the Dominican struggle, and representatives of all factions except Communists and extreme rightists, together in some plan to form a provisional government.

2. Emphasize, by the very dispatch of a mission, the importance he attaches to a peaceful, democratic solution of the Dominican civil war.

3. Try to safeguard the Organization of American States' role in dealing with the problems in this hemisphere and not allow the problem to go by default to the United Nations.

The Latin diplomats say Johnson seems determined that the OAS not become discredited as a vehicle for mediation and peace making in the Dominican Republic. The rebel forces, in contrast, appealed for United Nations action.

Latin Americans say it would be disastrous to give the U.N. Security Council, where the Soviet Union exercises veto power, any preferential role in solving problems in this hemisphere.

It probably is no coincidence that on the same day the council voted to send a mission to the Dominican Republic, Johnson issued a statement mentioning only the OAS in a mediation role in the Dominican Republic; pledged U.S. economic aid once the OAS achieves a settlement and decided to send his own high-level mission to the country.

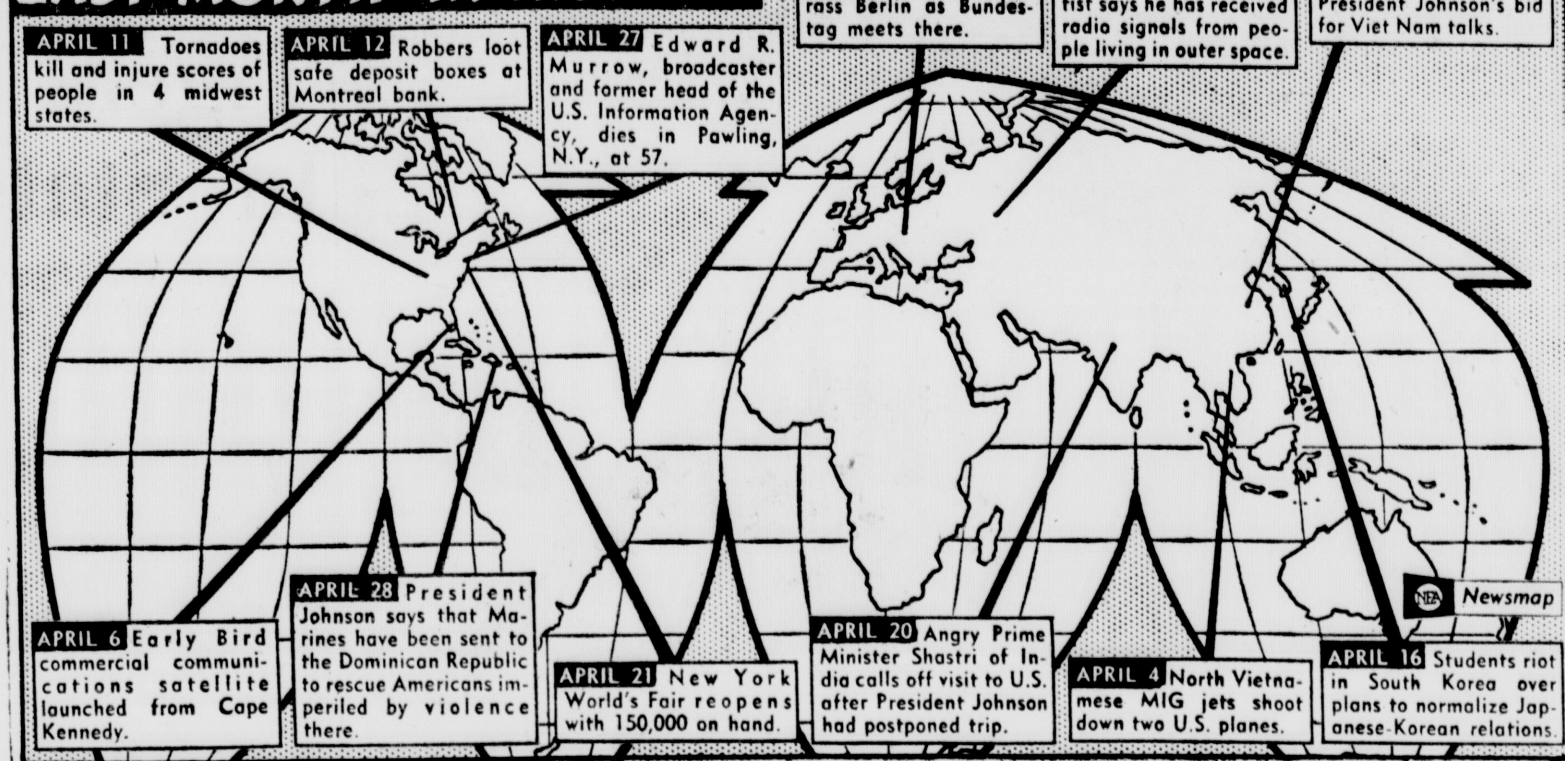

The administration's official position is that the United States is strictly impartial between the rebel forces of Col. Francisco Caamano Dene and the civilian military junta of Gen. Antonio Imbert.

Despite this and despite the fact that news dispatches indicate sharp differences of opinion between the Imbert group and U.S. officials, Latin Americans suspect a strong U.S. role in establishment of the junta.

But the impression here is that the United States and most of the Latin-American countries would like to see both Imbert and Caamano step down and clear the way for a coalition regime.

Latin Americans say the circumstances suggest the next Dominican president almost would have to be a member of the political party of ousted President Juan Bosch — for whose return the Caamano

LAST MONTH—IN HISTORY

PTA Council Luncheon Held May 12

The annual PTA Council luncheon was held at Smith-Cotton Cafeteria May 12, with a large representation present. Mrs. J. L. Summers, president, presided.

The Rev. George Sparling, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church, who has served as chaplain during the year, gave devotional. "This is a changing world," he told the group, "and we get used to something and like it, then don't want to change."

He pointed out changes all over the world, for revolution has come, he said, and in America we are particularly aware of our own change in the social pattern. He added that he doubted if even the Vanderbilts could now make a list of the 400.

America, he said, was born in revolution. It had fine leaders, but they were revolutionists. They were the rabble rousers of the American Revolution and only the select few could read or write.

Jesus, himself, Mr. Sparling continued, was a revolutionist. We worship what has been handed down. He stayed with the untouchables and established order. The good people were against him.

Now, he said, we see the rise of the Christian man, there is going to be change in our world. All the changes are human nature. The young people are concerned about their own problems. The clothes that do not fit, the boy is ignored. Their world is the world where you and I play a part. Mr. Sparling said, with love and assurance that we stand behind them. Our forces say the uprising was begun.

The fact that the Bundy mission stopped overnight in San Juan, P.R., where Bosch is in exile—but apparently in close touch with the Caamano forces—gave rise to speculation the group conferred with him.

In the midst of all the speculation about the Bundy mission, Washington created more speculation by announcing a $750,000 cash advance to an unidentified career official of the Dominican Finance Ministry to meet urgent expenses.

Presumably it was to pay salaries of career civil servants, keep them from going hungry and at the same time inject a little strength into the country's chaotic economy.

One explanation for this might be that U.S. officials feel that eventually Uncle Sam will have to bail out the country and that if the whole administrative machinery is allowed to fall apart now, it will be a more expensive operation.

youngsters get in trouble. They need discipline the same as children have always needed it. They always feel the need that they belong. Children are no different today in their needs than they were 100 years ago. The thing is, they have never stood still and never will.

Mr. Sparling was introduced by Mrs. George Espelin. The musical part of the program was presented by the Madrigal Singers of Smith-Cotton High School, directed by Mrs. Geraldine Schrader.

Reports for the year were made by James Shull, secretary; Mrs. Grant Cox, treasurer; Mrs. Claude Lambirth, the chairman of the budget committee; Mrs. Ralph Dedrich, chairman of the juvenile protection committee; Mrs. Lambirth, guide report; Mrs. Elvora Green, historian.

In the contest, it was announced that Jefferson PTA, of which Mrs. Fred Staley is president, was the winner and a pin oak tree has been planted on Jefferson School's grounds.

Sonic Booms May Shake Wide Area

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sonic booms may shake a 26-state area, including Kansas and Missouri, during an air defense exercise Friday.

The Strategic Air Command will simulate attacks across Canada and the United States with B47s, B52s and B58s.

Fighter planes will be sent up by the North American Air Defense Command to intercept the invaders. NORAD is composed of units of the Air Force, Army, Navy and the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The exercise is expected to last about 12 hours. There will be no interruption of normal civil air traffic.

Killed in Grandview

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Merle McCartney, 41, of Kansas City, was killed Monday in his car which sideswiped another car and overturned on U.S. 71 in Grandview.

The other driver, Edwin P. Littleton, 61, Kansas City, was not hurt.

Police said McCartney's car flipped over in the air and landed on its wheels. He was thrown through a window.

Wissman, who is attending Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, had applied for a second year, and was granted the scholarship to continue his education.

Introduced were: Dr. T. J. Norris, superintendent of public schools; P. A. Sillers, director of elementary education; Mrs. Bettye Murrell, school nurse; Walter E. Diehl, acting principal of Smith-Cotton; A. L. Wilson, principal of Horace Mann; H. E. Browder, vice principal of Hubbard division of Smith-Cotton; John T. Charged With Fraud In Fur Theft Report

OLATHE, Kan. (AP) — The owner and an employee of a fur shop have been charged with fraud in connection with the reported theft of furs valued at $58,000.

Booked into the Johnson County jail Monday night were Gilbert James Andresen, 51, owner of the shop in Overland Park, and Miss Gloria Jean Underwood, 40. They were expected to be released on bonds of $5,000 each.

Hugh Kreamer, county attorney, stated in the complaint that Andresen, Miss Underwood and a third person made false statements that the furs were stolen last Jan. 27, and then tried to collect $58,000 insurance from the Fireman Fund Insurance Co. Inc.

LBJ Steals The Issues From GOP

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carefully touching all the bases, President Johnson appears to have stolen a political issue from the Republicans by assuring early Congressional approval of a $4-billion excise-tax cut. When the President indicated weeks ago that he would propose a $1.75-billion reduction in what have become known as nuisance levies, congressional Republicans started priming their guns for a fight to increase the amount.

Some of the GOP members had been talking privately of a $4 billion reduction. Johnson's choice of that figure for graduated cuts over a period of years up to 1970 was regarded as no mere coincidence.

To diminish the opposition to this sliding-scale procedure, White House teams worked with industries concerned to get advance agreements on specific items.

For example, they were reported to have won informal agreement from auto industry leaders to go along with first-step reduction from 10 per cent to 7 per cent in the levies on cars. Industry spokesmen as late as last Friday had called for immediate repeal of the full tax.

If this agreement stands up it could eliminate the best-lobbed opposition to the bill's early passage, just as could agreements with other affected industries.

As is customary with him, Johnson guarded his plans carefully. But he made sure that he and the Democrats would be the political beneficiaries of removing taxes on such items as air conditioners, television sets, pocketbooks, toilet goods and many other things.

By staggering most of the cuts as of next July 1 and the following Jan. 1, the President appeared to be taking out some insurance against a lag in the economy, which could hurt Democratic candidates in 1966. He anticipated Republican criticism by voicing assurances that the cuts would not affect necessary defense spending.

University officials, in addition to Wescoe, who testified were E.P. Moorman, campus police chief; Laurence Woodruff, dean of students; and Keith Lawton, vice chancellor of operations. The photographer for the county sheriff's office also testified.

Cross-Country Flier In New Demonstration

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — John M. Conroy, the first flier to cross the United States both ways between sunrise and sunset, will try it again Friday in a business jet.

On May 21, 1955—to dramatize the readiness of the Air National Guard —Conroy flew a single-seat F86 Sabrejet from Los Angeles to New York and back in 11 hours, 26 minutes, 33 seconds.

Conroy is president of Aero Spacelines at Van Nuys, Calif., and this time he will fly a pressurized, eight-place Lear Jet.

Ten years ago, he wore a crash helmet with visor, a G-suit and jump boots. This time, he'll wear a business suit. Ten years ago, he made two stops for fuel eastbound and three westbound. This time, he plans an eastbound stop at Wichita and a westbound stop at Tulsa. "I might even take my three kids along if their teacher will let them out of school for the day," Conroy said in California. "Ten years ago, they saw me off from the airport and were there when I returned."

Yankees 10 Games Behind
Chicago's White Sox Now

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

A year ago today, the New York Yankees were 10 percent behind the Chicago White Sox. Today, the Yankees are 10 games behind.

The White Sox are in the same position they were in 1964 — first place in the American League. But the Yankees are nowhere near the second spot they held down at that time. They are in eighth place.

Chicago continued its torrid play by clobbering Kansas City 13-2 Monday night for its eighth consecutive victory. The Yankees, on the other hand, continued along their floundering way, dropping a 9-2 decision to Baltimore.

The pitchers for the Yankees and White Sox more or less typified the teams' 1965 fortunes.

New York's Whitey Ford last night only four innings against the Orioles en route to his fourth straight defeat. At this time in 1964, the 36-year-old left-hander had started eight games, completing five for a 4-1 record and a 1.66 earned-run average.

Ford currently has completed only one of eight starts and owns a 2-5 mark with a 6.07 ERA.

Gary Peters, however, is slightly ahead of his pace of a year ago after going the distance for the first time in seven starts. The victory against the Athletics brought his record to 4-2 and 3.60.

In 1964, the 28-year-old southpaw had not completed a game in seven starts while posting a 3-2 mark and a 3.73 ERA.

In the only other AL game Monday night, Los Angeles edged Minnesota 5-4 in 10 innings.

Philadelphia nipped St. Louis 2-1 and Los Angeles trimmed Houston 5-3 in 11 innings in the only National League action.

Peters scattered eight hits in handing the Athletics their first loss after two triumphs under their new manager, Haywood Sullivan.

Floyd Robinson, Pete Ward and Ken Berry led the White Sox 16-hit attack, each slugging a home run. Robinson and Berry also singled in a run each in the six-run seventh inning while Bill Skowron knocked in a pair with a single.

Milt Pappas limited the Yankees to five hits, one of them Joe Pepitone's two-run single in the first inning.

Bob Johnson rapped four Baltimore hits, driving in two runs, while John Orsino and Jack Brandt each collected three hits. Orsino batted in three runs, his two-run single in the fifth knocking Ford out of the game.

The Angels edged Minnesota in the 10th inning when Albie Pearson led off with a double against Johnny Klippstein, advanced to third on a sacrifice and scooted home as Bob Rodgers blooped a single to center field off Mel Nelson.

Los Angeles had taken a 4-3 lead in the eighth on Vic Power's two-run single, but pinch-hitter Don Mincher of the Twins started the ninth with a home run off Bob Lee.

DIDN'T MAKE IT — L. A. Angel Bob Rodgers is out at the plate on the second half of a double steal in the eighth inning at Los Angeles as Minnesota Twins catcher Earl Battey tags him sliding in. Vic Power took second, but the relay back to Battey got Rodgers on his way from third. Umpire Jim Honochick signals him out. In the tenth, Rodgers came back to single in Albie Pearson as the Angels took the Twins 5-4. (UPI Telephoto)

SPORTS

Way Back
When ...

NOT TOO MANY days from now, Indianapolis, Ind., will hold the attention of the racing world. It's "500" time again.

And so, back we went — all the way to 1935. That was a great year for racing. New developments and engineering in those days put a virtual guarantee on the fact that somebody was bound to break the 105 miles-per-hour mark — either that year or the next.

Interest was growing in the upcoming race. The cars, as high as a stage coach by 1965 standards, were ready and tuned. And, shortly before the 1935 race, four drivers stood out as top contenders.

All four were record breakers. Starting it out in 1925 with an average speed of 101.13 mph, Pete DePaolo was back in 1935 to try it again. DePaolo was the fellow who carried his son's shoe around with him for luck.

Next was Lou Meyer, already a two-time winner of the "500" who set a speed mark in 1932 with 104.162 mph. Fred Frame was third in line with his record breaking 104.114 and then came "Wild Bill" Cummings, who went through the time clock at 104.863 miles per hour in 1934.

Cummings was the man who widened the eyes of fans when he whipped around the back stretch at a whopping 170 miles an hour in that race. They idolized him ever after.

These four were listed as the men to beat. All had proven their stamina and daring — and things were looking up all the time. More on the outcome of that race at a later date. (pid)

More Bomb Blast
Identifications Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two more Air Force casualties in Sunday's Bien Hoa air base disaster in South Viet Nam were identified Monday.

Listed as dead is Staff Sgt. David L. Hubbard, son of Mrs. Margaret Casto of Wichita, Kan. Missing is Tech. Sgt. Donald J. Seaman of Mount Holly, N.J.

Pentagon records disclosed Monday that 510 American servicemen have died in South Viet Nam since Jan. 1, 1961. This does not include victims of the Bien Hoa explosions. Combat wounded total 2,125, missing in action lists 26 and 13 have been captured.

May 30 Is
Opening Day
Of Season

JEFFERSON CITY (Special) — This will be the squirrel season hunters have been looking forward to.

The season opens May 30 for a seven-month run to Dec. 31. And squirrels are abundant. They usually are when the previous fall's acorn crop is large, like last fall's.

In fact, with such a big crop of squirrels statewide, the big problem may be getting enough hunters into the woods to harvest them. For several reasons, spring and summer squirrel hunting are not completely popular. Among these reasons are chiggers, ticks and other assorted non-game species. Some hunters insist the heavy foliage — compared to fall — makes it harder to spot squirrels in the treetops. But most genuine squirrel hunters see this as a challenge rather than an impediment.

On the plus side, spring hunting offers warm weather, which people prefer. And there is no better eating than pan-browned spring fryers served with gravy, fresh greens and hot biscuits.

Some hunters would argue and say early rabbit hunting produces the best sport and the finest eating. Rabbit season also opens May 30 in Missouri and it should be a better season than last year's, according to information now available. Any true hunter will disregard the superstition about spring and summer rabbits being unfit to eat. They have parasites, of course, and some get sick. But the parasites can be safely removed and the sick bunnies are usually pretty obvious by their behavior.

Naturally, there are those who just will not hunt squirrels or rabbits this early in the year.

It isn't that they don't like the hunting — instead they prefer to go fishing. The season on black bass in rivers — those rivers not open all year anyway — will open on May 29. This includes most of Missouri's storied Ozarks float streams, so those who have been putting off that long-awaited first float of the season may as well start packing fishing gear.

The time is here.

Side Pocket
Award For
Tony Taylor

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Taylor will never win the Fireman of the Year Award but the Philadelphia second baseman rates the Side Pocket Plaque today for saving Bo Belinsky's first National League victory.

Belinsky, the Phillies' pool-playing southpaw pitcher, topped the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Monday night with a full-route five-hitter and a couple of vital eighth-inning assists from Taylor.

The little Cuban homered off Philadelphia nemesis Curt Simmons in the top of the eighth, giving Belinsky a 2-0 margin. Then, with one St. Louis run in and Bo on the ropes in the bottom of the inning, Taylor's perfect relay throw cut down the tying run at the plate.

Sandy Koufax, working longer and harder than Belinsky for his fifth 1965 victory, singled to start a four-run rally in the 11th inning that carried the Los Angeles Dodgers past Houston 5-3 in the only other National League game.

"I'll start going now," Belinsky, 1-2, said after completing his first start in six tries. "Sure, I've had trouble in the late innings but you have to be a little lucky when you get past the seventh."

Bo was working on a two-hit shutout when the Cardinals came alive with one out in the eighth. Pinch-hitter Phil Gagliano singled, took second on a passed ball and scored on Lou Brock's single. Curt Flood followed with a double to the right-field corner but Johnny Callison retrieved the ball and fired to cut-off man Tony Taylor, who threw a strike to catcher Gus Triandos. Triandos made the tag on the sliding Brock and umpire Shag Crawford called him out.

The play touched off a heated argument during which St. Louis coach Joe Schultz was ejected from the game.

Taylor's home run off loser Curt Simmons, leading off the Phillies' eighth, proved to be the decisive run.

Art Mahaffey (2-0) starts for Philadelphia tonight against the Cardinals at Busch Stadium. Ray Sadecki (0-4) will pitch for the Redbirds.

Chicago takes on the A's again at Kansas City. Orlando Pena (0-5) or John O'Donoghue (1-5) will start for Kansas City against Joe Horlen (3-3).

Whip Glendale, 9-1

Tigers To Play
In State Finals

The Smith-Cotton Tigers are Busch Stadium-bound after a convincing 9-1 triumph over Glendale High School at Springfield, Monday night.

The Tigers, after the other regionals around the state, will be one of four teams competing for the Missouri State Championship in St. Louis.

Sparked by a three-run first inning, the Bengals were in the lead for keeps when they scored twice in each of the next two stanzas and the sixth.

John Johnson contributed to the Tiger run barrage with a two-run blast over the fence in the second inning, his first of the season. Steve Young also scored on the homer after reaching base on a walk.

The first three Tiger runs came off two free passes issued to John Johnson and Gary Cornell. After Helsert, the loser for Glendale, got the next two batters on strikes, Barry Morton cut loose with a run-producing double to be followed by Randy France's R.B.I. base hit.

Two triples made it into the Sedalia record books during Monday's regional game. In the third inning, Tom Hudson bombed one deep into the outfield, pushing home Morton who had reached base on a fielder's choice.

Butch Rozier contributed the other three-bagger with Tom Lemons on the base paths, getting there on a single.

Glendale's lone tally came in the third inning when Lee singled home teammate, Heigat, who had reached third on a triple.

Jim Johnson, the winner, went the distance for Smith-Cotton in a brilliantly hurled two-hitter.

Now 20-6 for the season, the Tigers go for their most important wins beginning May 28. On that day they will face their first competition, as yet unknown, in the semi-finals to decide the baseball champs of Missouri.

State Stays
In Cassius'
Title Fight

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — You can take the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston fight out of Massachusetts but you can't take Massachusetts out of the heavy-weight title rematch.

Champion Clay, who intends to train right up to the 11th hour at his western Massachusetts camp, has the Maine Boxing Commission coming to Muhammad — Ali that is — for a pre-fight physical today at Chicopee, Mass.

The referee for the transferred May 25 bout may come from Massachusetts. The gloves definitely will. The 10-point must scoring system is the same that Massachusetts uses. And the promoters are gloating they will make an additional $180,000 in closed-circuit television revenue because of Massachusetts.

Postponed by Clay's hernia operation last November, the fight had been rescheduled May 25 at Boston Garden until court action threatened a ban. So the backers switched to the Central Maine Youth Center here.

Boxing men can't recall when, if ever, members of the commission of one state traveled to another to give a pre-fight physical. The group made its decision Monday so that Clay wouldn't have to lose a day's workout by traveling.

George L. Russo, Maine boxing commission chairman, said the non-voting referee will be from out-of-state, though he hasn't been selected. The three judges have been picked, but the identity of all officials will be withheld until fight time.

The $154 gloves specially made to fit the hands of the contestants were originally ordered and locked in a safe by the Massachusetts Boxing Commission, and were shipped here recently.

The 20-foot-square (inside the ropes) ring is native, being sent to this city of 41,000 from the Brunswick Naval Air Station.

The mandatory eight count on knockdowns is debatable. The commission hasn't thrashed out that question because Russo said "we haven't had too many fights here in recent years." It has been used in Maine in the past.

Fred Brooks, head of Sportsvision handling the closed-circuit TV, said the transfer of the fight has opened up the Greater Boston market previously to be blacked out, and he expects a sale of an additional 30,000 seats at an average of $6 apiece.

er wild throw on John Roseboro's grounder and two more runs crossed, giving the first-place Dodgers their winning margin.

The Dodgers' ace singled with one out, moved around on Maury Wills' single and a walk to Wes Parker and scored as Ron Fairly beat out a hit off reliever Hal Woodeshick's leg. When second-baseman Joe Morgan picked up the ball and threw wildly to first, Wills also scored. Morgan then uncorked another

Both Lose
Mon. Games

By The Associated Press

Both the Kansas City Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals lost home games Monday. The Chicago White Sox trounced the A's 13-2, and the Philadelphia Phillies edged St. Louis 2-1.

It was the eighth straight victory for the White Sox and the first loss for the Athletics under new manager Haywood Sullivan. The A's won a doubleheader Sunday in Sullivan's managerial debut.

Jim Gentile spoiled a shutout for the White Sox's Gary Peters when Gentile doubled in two runs in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia's Bo Belinsky, who won his first national League victory, had a two-hit, 2-0 shutout until the eighth inning. Phil Gagliano singled with one out, moved to second on a passed ball and scored on Lou Brock's single.

Curt Flood followed with a double into the right field corner. Right fielder Johnny Callison retrieved the ball and fired to cut-off man Tony Taylor, who threw a strike to catcher Gus Triandos. Triandos made the tag on the sliding Brock and umpire Shag Crawford called him out.

The play touched off a heated argument during which St. Louis coach Joe Schultz was ejected from the game.

In Wrestling Action

Myers, Reed Pool Talent
Against Stomper, Raider

Sonny Myers and Ronnie Reed, a successful wrestling partnership on other occasions, will be back together tonight when they pool talents against the Stomper and Red Raider here.

A four-event mat card is scheduled at Convention Hall with the starting clash scheduled to get under way at 8:15.

Myers and Reed, two of the top-ranked heavyweights in the Midlands, are fast, agile and well versed in all phases of the action. They're sure to be tested at every turn by their rough-house foes. The giant Stomper was kingpin of area wrestling two years ago, holding the Central States crown, and dominating the entire Midlands mat scene.

Fresh off an extended wrestling tour of Australia, the 255-pound Stomper has lined up with the masked Raider to form one of the most vicious tandems in the Mo-Kan section. Power and mauling make up he ingredients of their ring offense and each is capable of setting a jolting pace.

Reed and Myers would like to go into the outdoor season as the top tandem around and will Raider obstacle in decisive fashion if they're to do that.

Ray Duran makes his Sedalia bow tonight when he challenges the capable Negro heavyweight, Claude Patterson. The strapping Patterson has had several impressive starts since coming to the Midlands a few weeks back.

RON REED

and is rated a top threat to the ranking Central States champion.

Reed will hook up in a separate battle with the Stomper in another event that promises some bruising action from first bell to last.

The other individual pairing brings together Myers and the unpredictable Raider.

Dates Set For Two Current
River Races

SALEM (Special) — Dates for two annual Current River canoe races have been set, and conservation agents are preparing to take their places as guardians of safety for the racers.

Conservation agents man safety canoes during the races and are equipped with two-way radios, first aid supplies and other safety gear. A Conservation Commission airplane will cover the races from the air to report accidents or dangerous situations to the boat patrols. Agents in radio-equipped automobiles will observe the races from points along the river and act as radio relay stations between the boats, whose radio range is limited.

The Upper Current race will start at 11 a.m. May 23 at Akers Ferry, about 20 miles south of Salem, and will end 22 miles later at Round Spring State Park.

The Lower Current race will start at Van Buren at 1 p.m. Sept. 4 and will continue to Bay Nothing camp. After an overnight stay there, it will continue at 1 p.m. Sept. 5 and end at Float Camp Number 7 near Doniphan.

Plush Homes On Wheels

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — "Among the 73 mobile homes in this section of the village, there are 21 millionaires, 56 Cadillacs, and one Rolls Royce."

Rex Thompson, manager of double unit — including cabana Palm Springs' most palatial mobile — home park, gestured with his cigar at a 60-by-40-foot — just rolled into place at Blue Skies Village.

"It cost $25,000," said Thompson. "It's a double twelve-wide (12 feet in width), bolted together. Has two bedrooms, two baths. By the time the owner gets through with his improvements, it'll cost him $75,000 for the works."

"His architect told him he was silly to spend that kind of money. Told him that for that he could buy a mansion at the best country club."

"He told the architect: 'Look, I've already got a mansion at the best country club. And I'm tired of looking at those bare walls and that empty pool. I want to enjoy life!'"

Thompson, a onetime film-studio technician who has designed 150 trailer parks, calls them mobile homes, not trailers.

"These still have their wheels and license plates," said Thompson. "They can move — even if they don't. They've got to be mobile or they'd be taxed as homes, which would cost a lot more. But nobody really lives here for economic reasons."

"All our guests have a home someplace else, maybe in some cooler climate where they spend the summer. In fact, we don't take people who don't have other homes. We wouldn't accept someone who had to live in a mobile home for economic reasons."

Bing Crosby heads the firm which owns the village. Stockholders include George Burns, Jack Benny and Danny Kaye. A space rents for about $75. The mobile homes cost from $7,500 up, and each owner is expected to spend at least $7,500 on improvements.

Some are California ranch style, others Cape Cod. One is in the motif of an Egyptian temple, another in colonial style with a fountain out front illuminated by colored lights. Several have adjacent guest trailers, and one a $10,000 home on wheels for the family maid.

Thus encumbered, the mobile homes become immobile; only one moved away last year. The biggest 12-wides are too long to be towed on the highway. Trucks pull them on lowboys, such as those the Army uses for moving disabled tanks.

In these cool, thickly carpeted showplaces on wheels dwell people who are mostly rich or well-to-do, older but not elderly, and retired.

Kansas Citian Tops Central Zone Trap Shoot

Myron Willoughby, Kansas City, shot 370 out of 400 for the over-all trophy and 281 out of 300 for the all-around prize in the Sedalia Rod and Gun Club's Central Missouri Zone Trap Shoot over the weekend.

Saturday, in Class AA 16-yard shoot Willoughby shot a 96 and on Sunday almost doubled his performance, this time in Class A in the doubles, shooting a 94. Saturday's event was in the 16-yard trophy class, with 27 shooters, and Sunday 24 shooters aimed at the double trophy spotlight.

Other results: Saturday, 16-yard events: Class AA, Willoughby; Class A, Freeman Dull, Independence, 99; Class B, Glen Gaycraft, 97; Class C, Rupert Ratliff, Callad, Mo., 95; Class D, Richard Arnett, 90, Green Ridge.

Saturday, handicap shoot: 1. Freeman Dull, 96; 2. Ed Berry, Sweet Springs, 95. Thirty-three shooters competed in the event. Sunday, doubles events: A. Willoughby, 94; B. Van Swearingen, Shelbina, Mo., 93. In this class, 24 shooters took part.
